Touring Russ Team Swamps Cardiff, 10-1 In Fine Exhibition

CARDIFF, Wales (Reuter)—Critics with memories reaching away back could not recall any finer exhibition of soccer than today's display at Ninian Park here by Moscow's touring Dynamos, who swamped Cardiff's third division team 10 to 1 before 40,000 fans.

The Soviet team, which held London's first division Chelsea club to a 3 to 3 draw in their first exhibition last Wednesday, baffled their eager but inexperienced opponents this afternoon, whipping in three first-half goals and running wild for seven in the final period.

The exhibition tilt overshadowed regular English and Scottish league fixtures, despite several major upsets in regular league play.

Storm Endangers Ships Aground At Kingston

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Caught in heavy seas rolling down Lake Ontario, two Canadian corvettes, H.M.C.S. Kitchener (K225) and H.M.C.S. Drumheller (K167), broke the line connecting them with a tug today and went aground on the public utilities dock here. They were being towed out of the harbor on their way to Hamilton.

The K225, once the heroine of a movie, grounded with her bow on pilings off the dock. Her stern, rocking in the heavy seas, cleared the city's water intake pipe by five feet. With the barometer falling there is some danger of her crushing the pipe.

In 1944 the Canadian navy paid the city of Kingston $10,000 after a naval craft commanded by Cmdr. Henry Hill of Kingston dragged an anchor across the pipe disrupting the city's water service.

The corvettes straddle the utilities dock and are held there by the towline connecting them. If that line breaks the Drumheller is in danger of being battered against the shore east of the dock while the Kitchener would drift ashore to the west.

Earlier this week, two other corvettes grounded on Carleton Island outside the harbor.

Guelph Fire Causes Thousands of Dollars of Damage

Exploding ammunition endangered firemen fighting flames which gutted the Bond Hardware Co.'s block in Guelph, Ont. Thousands of dollars of damage resulted to five stores and several offices in the block.

German Midget Sub Unloaded

En route to Ottawa for examination by navy officials, this German midget sub is being unloaded from the deck of a freighter upon its arrival at Montreal from Antwerp. Later it will be placed on public exhibition. The sub, about 30 feet in length, weighs 25 tons. Because of its size, it was used only against troop and supply ships in shallow water. The cast-iron nose is filled with high explosive that means certain death to its one-man crew when contact is made. It also carries two torpedoes.

Extremists Order Battle To Death Against British

BATAVIA (AP)—Dutch, Indonesian and British leaders conferred today without reaching a formula for obtaining peace in strife-torn Java.

The Dutch news agency Aneta declared Indonesian extremists, whom British officers said were firing warehouses and stores in falling back before the British-Indian advance in Soerabaja, had called for a war to the death against Britain.

A reign of terror was spreading among Indonesians in the Soerabaja area, said a dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Vern Haughland. He quoted refugees as saying the moderates there were completely dominated by bands of youthful extremists, who monopolized the weapons, and threatened death to persons counseling peace.

Another dispatch from the city said Indonesian civilians were evacuating southern areas of Soerabaja before the British advance, but that armed bands remained behind to set fire to fine hotels and residences.

British announcements said extremists were firing warehouses and goods while considerable movement was observed behind the lines. One warehouse was destroyed in a great fire which sent towering columns of smoke skyward.

De Gaulle Resigned To Keep Balance Of Political Powers

PARIS (AP)—Gen. de Gaulle told the French nation in a broadcast tonight he could not grant the Communist party any ministerial posts controlling foreign affairs because of France's interest in maintaining an "equilibrium between the two great political powers" of the world.

Gen. de Gaulle did not mention the names of the "two great political powers."

The Communists, he said, had presented him the "categorical demand" for a portfolio of one of the foreign, war or interior ministries.

He said these three ministries directed the "diplomacy that expresses" France's foreign policy. "The army that sustains it, and the police that protect it."

He declared he was leaving the decision to the constituent assembly as to whether he should go on trying to form a new government or turn the task over to someone else, and that he would turn the government over to someone else "without bitterness" if the assembly so decided.

(A Reuter dispatch from Paris said the Communist and Socialist parties in the French constituent assembly had agreed to form a government under a president to be nominated by the Communists, largest group in the House.)

Miss Landis Charges Un-Zipping Attempt

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Carole Landis walked into a room at Hollywood police station today and, police said, levelled a finger at a man jailed for "attempt rape" on her complaint of a zipper-pulling incident, exclaiming, "That's him!"

The suspect, booked as Charles L. Gramlich, 31, denied molesting the film star. He identified himself as a former Marietta, Ohio, lawyer.

Police reported they also were investigating recent reports of attempts to annoy actresses Greer Garson and Claudette Colbert "by a man of similar description."

Police said Miss Landis reported she was sitting in her dressing-room Wednesday when the door opened and a stranger asked where he could find Carole Landis. When she identified herself, she continued, he closed the door, sat down on a couch, attempted to embrace her and fumbled with the zipper on her costume.

She said she fought him off and he fled as she screamed.

Atom May Replace Coal in 10 Years, Scientist Predicts

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Within 10 years power companies designing new plants for city service may be considering favorably the use of uranium's atomic heat instead of coal.

This prediction was made to the American Philosophical Society and the National Academy of Sciences here by Dr. Arthur H. Compton, Noble Prize scientist who headed scientific work that produced the present atomic ovens to manufacture plutonium at Pasco, Wash. He now is president of Washington University, St. Louis.

He said power companies would consider the substitution of uranium for coal for purely economic reasons, adding that this forecast did not take into account the possibility of political or social controls which might change atomic power development.

"This, of course," Dr. Compton said, "does not mean that atomic power will put coal out of business. Each will have its own field. For small heating units, such as kitchen stoves, atomic power has no place. If our national economy grows as it should, coal as a chemical agent will increase in importance."

Dr. Compton said uranium may reduce the cost of heat and power to cities. There will be the boon of no smoke.

He said a reasonably efficient atomic power plant could be put into operation within a year, making superheated steam to drive a turbine. This plant would be only a demonstration and not economic without a number of years of further development.

"With the present price of uranium oxide at roughly $3 per pound, and of coal at $3 per ton, this would mean the economical use of uranium as fuel if only one part in 1,000 of its available energy is used. Actually we should expect the first plants built for producing atomic power to be considerably more efficient than this, which would mean a substantial cost advantage for uranium."

This uranium power will be safe, Dr. Compton said. Atomic explosions, such as destroyed Hiroshima, cannot occur accidentally.

Canadian Medico To Examine Hess

NUERNBERG, Germany (CP)—Dr. D. Ewen Cameron of Montreal, McGill University psychiatrist, is expected to arrive here from Paris this week-end to examine Rudolf Hess, one-time No. 3 Nazi, now awaiting trial on war crimes charges.

Dr. Cameron will work with a team of prominent United States psychiatrists who, along with French, British and Russian medical experts, now are investigating Hess' mental state, which is still a question mark. It is understood the psychiatrists are coming to the conclusion that Hess is suffering from self-induced amnesia, but there has been no decision yet as to whether he can stand trial.

Col. Yuri Pucovsky, Soviet assistant prosecutor, said he believed "both Hess and Streicher are trying to fool the court."

Japanese Burned Prisoner Records

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese military ordered prisoner of war records burned the day Emperor Hirohito commanded the nation to lay down its arms, the recovered personnel section of Allied headquarters disclosed today.

Under Allied prompting, the Japanese have been able to offer only the vaguest and most incomplete explanations of the action.

Japan's liaison office said the destruction was carried out when the Japanese were "psychologically in a state of utter confusion, if not panic stricken."

Pearkes Wants Wireless, Phone Services On Coast Maintained

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's occupation air force is not expected to remain in Europe more than a year or two, Air Minister Gibson said Friday night in the Commons.

He said the squadrons in Europe numbered about 8,000 men, with about 2,000 more at the base in the United Kingdom and in addition there were about 15,000 members of the force still overseas awaiting repatriation.

Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., P.C., Nanaimo, urged the armed services' wireless station on Queen Charlotte Islands be kept in operation.

Gen. Pearkes said he understood the wireless system was being put in "grease" and a caretaker appointed to look after it. He felt the system, which linked the islands with Prince Rupert should be kept in operation.

It could be used in the training of wireless operators for the permanent forces and also as a link with the mainland settlements on the islands, situated north of Vancouver Island.

He also urged that telephone lines strung up for defence purposes on the west coast be made available for use of farmers and settlers in remote areas. He asked that the British Columbia Telephone Company should not be allowed to remove from the remote areas any equipment put up by the forces and which might be made available to the company by the government.

The requests were supported by J. H. Matthews, C.C.F., Kootenay East, and William Irvine, C.C.F., Cariboo.

Air Minister Gibson said the wireless station on the Queen Charlotte Islands now had been turned over to the Transport Department. The R.C.A.F. could train its wireless operators at bases on the Northwest Staging Route, over which it was taking control.

The air force was trying to have the army take over the telephone service set up for defence purposes. He would look into contracts with the British Columbia telephone companies with regard to disposal of equipment.

Gray, who was serving with the British aircraft carrier H.M.S. Formidable as a fighter pilot, bombed and sank the Japanese destroyer Aug. 9, just six days before V-J Day. His plane was shot down in flames and he was reported missing, presumed dead. His was the lone Victoria Cross awarded to a member of the Canadian naval service in the war.

Victoria Sends $3,000 to Strikers

While donations are still pouring in, it was estimated today Victoria trade unionists had donated more than $3,000 to support the striking Automobile Workers of America, Local 200, union at the Ford Plant in Windsor, Ont.

R. Mezger said it was impossible to state just how much money had been sent from Victoria to the Ford strikers because it had been sent through several different channels but he placed the total at in excess of $3,000.

Mr. Mezger, secretary of the Victoria Labor Council, is also secretary of the joint C.C.L. and A.F.L. committee here on the Ford strike.

Chinese-Canadian Force Did Great Work in Malaya

VANCOUVER (CP)—The long secret operations of a group of about 200 Chinese-Canadian troops from British Columbia, known to the public until now only as "Force 136," were partially unfolded today in a letter from one of them.

He is Pte. Louis R. Chow, 19, of Vancouver, who wrote from Ceylon, India, to tell his family of the special work the secret force did during the final stage of the Pacific war.

Great majority of the 200 Canadian-Chinese that made up the special force are from Vancouver. They were quietly drafted into the group and until now virtually no mention of their operations has been made.

Dropped by night behind Japanese lines in the steaming Malaya jungle, they sent intelligence reports back to Allied headquarters, sabotaged Japanese communication lines and trained the natives to fight their aggressors. They performed their vital work in small bands of four or more men.

Many of the Vancouver Chinese paid with their lives for their hazardous work.

Kill All Prisoners, Yamashita Ordered

MANILA (A.P.)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita heard a Filipino witness today attribute to him a blunt order to "kill all prisoners of war in the Philippines."

Filmon Castillejos said a Japanese captain told him such an order had been received from Yamashita, and figured in the execution of three United States airmen on Batan, northernmost of the Philippines.

Earlier witnesses had told of the execution of the airmen and the torture and murder of a 1st Cavalry Division trooper.

A medical officer's statement introduced by the prosecution, described torture marks on the body of a U.S. cavalry patrol member, captured near Caragara in November, 1944. The report said the body bore bayonet wounds, a fingernail had been removed, and the feet showed evidence they had been burned.

Lt. Gen. W. D. Styer, deputy commander for Gen. MacArthur, continued to ignore a writ of habeas corpus through which the defense seeks to remove the case from U.S. Army jurisdiction and place it in the Philippines Commonwealth court.

In Tokyo, Allied headquarters explained that Gen. Styer has full authority in all matters connected with the trial.

Troop Trains Await Arrival of Elizabeth

Equivalent to a train five miles long, more than 300 passenger cars have gone to the Canadian National Railway yards at Halifax to be marshaled for arrival of the troopships Queen Elizabeth and H.M.S. Puncher over the week-end. The 17 C.N.R. troop trains will be made up of 222 sleepers, 31 diners and 52 cars of other types.

If added together, the number of miles each serviceman and woman will travel to their homes in all parts of the Dominion would total 14,260,214.

Bonuses for 6,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has paid more than $3,500,000 in war bonuses to 6,000 civil servants in the last 12 months. It was disclosed in a return tabled in the Commons Friday night for Dr. W. G. Blair, P.C., Lark, Ont.

Bonuses went to personnel in 32 departments, to boards and commissions. More than 300 got bonuses of more than $1,000 each, 700 got more than $500.

The bonuses were paid, in many cases, in lieu of salary increases, on the grounds that personnel were asked to work long wartime hours and assume heavy responsibilities.

Saanich Issues To Be Aired Nov. 27

Subjects of vital interest to residents of the district and the municipality as a whole will be aired at a meeting of Saanich Ratepayers, Ward 1, in C.C.F. Hall, Richmond Road, Nov. 27.

Chief topics for discussion will include the transportation question, amalgamation, establishment of a Greater Victoria water board and the installation of an adequate lighting system for the municipality.

Found Not Guilty

After 20 minutes deliberation, an Assize Court jury brought in a verdict of not guilty in the case of Daryl Errett charged with unlawfully receiving a quantity of stolen cigarettes over the value of $25 the property of Safeway Stores Ltd., here Friday.

A. M. Goldie, manager of the Safeway store at 301 Menzies Street, gave evidence as to the theft of nearly 350 packages of cigarettes from the store during the night of March 22 of this year.

Two juvenile boys testified they and another boy had broken into the store that night and taken the cigarettes. They claimed to have sold them to the accused and that he had been told they were stolen.

Under cross-examination by Gordon Wismer, K.C., defence counsel, one boy admitted that Errett said on one occasion that he was not interested in buying any cigarettes. The second boy under cross-examination said that he was not sure the accused was the man to whom the boys had gone to sell the cigarettes.

Mr. Wismer argued that evidence given by the juveniles could not be believed because of its contradictory nature, after he had called Mrs. Lillian M. French who testified that Errett was with her, except for one hour when he went to church on March 25, the day the Crown stated the transaction of the cigarettes took place.

J. B. Cleirhugh, K.C., acted as Crown prosecutor.

Urge Vote Here On 1-Day Strike

Plans for taking a referendum among all Victoria trade unionists on a proposed one-day sympathy strike for the Ford Motor Co. employees of Windsor, Ont., were advanced here Friday night.

Not only will all Victoria unions be asked to set up the necessary machinery to take a strike vote but the national representatives of both C.C.L. and A.F.L. unions will be urged to set up machinery for taking a Canadian-wide strike vote.

This action was decided at a meeting of representatives of six C.C.L. and five A.F.L. unions to discuss the strike of the United Automobile Workers of America, Local 200, which began Sept. 12.

At the meeting it was announced two unions, the National Brotherhood of Machineists, Local 2, and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other Transport Workers, Division 234, had already decided to take a vote on the proposed strike action.

A strike committee headed by James D. Smith was authorized to approach the city council to request a tag day for which proceeds would go to the Windsor strikers.

THE INTERNATIONAL

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs
Writer

You don't have to be vindictive or cold-blooded to feel extreme satisfaction that justice has overtaken Josef Kramer, the "Beast of Belsen," and 29 others who perpetrated the horrors of the Belsen and Oswiecim concentration camps.

The story is not yet complete. A British military court at Luneberg has convicted these fiends, but the wages of their sins still have to be collected—and the world at large hopes payment will be made in full. Those sins are too well known to need repetition here. Tens of thousands of wretched prisoners were killed by slow and deliberate starvation. Some of them in their anguish cut flesh from bodies for food. Many were beaten to death or tortured in other ways.

It would be a welcome relief if we could say the deeds at those two camps were isolated instances. But these sadistic murderers represent far more than the atrocities for which they personally were responsible. They typify the fanatical Nazi of all ranks, for Hitler and Goering and the other leaders inspired this crime, even if they did not carry it out personally.

The Nazi Fuehrer was one of the most terrible mass-murderers of all time. Kramer rubbed his hands over the slaughter of thousands, while Hitler dealt death to millions. But Kramer got his ideas from the Fuehrer. So did others like fat Hermann Goering who wouldn't raise his bejeweled hands to commit murder personally but dictated orders which brought the tragedies of war and extermination to a countless cost.

Unfortunately this barbarism has not been confined to Europe. The Allies have encountered it in terrible forms in the Orient, and the Japs not only committed atrocities against troops but did hideous things to civilians, even little children, in the countries they overran.

One of the greatest tasks of rehabilitation which the Allies must perform, both in Europe and in the Far East, is to wipe out this evil influence—the bloodlust which leads to wars. There's only one way to do it, and that is to run to earth and bring to trial every man and woman suspected of atrocities. And the thing must cut deeper than that, because the warlords also must suffer for aggression.

These people are having fair trials and are being defended by capable lawyers. We have the evidence of justice in the Lueneburg trials, where 14 of the accused were acquitted and the charges against another were dismissed. Thus out of 45 who were brought to book, one-third went free.

22 Injured in Crash of Trains

LYDICK, Ind. (AP)—At least 22 persons were injured, two seriously, in a collision of the New York Central system's east-bound advance Commodore Vanderbilt passenger train and derailed cars of a westbound freight train Friday.

Most of those injured were members of the train crew and staff. Seven of the 15 cars of the all-Pullman train and the locomotive overturned. Two cars sprang from their sides in a cornfield about three miles west of here.

Railroad headquarters in Chicago said 214 passengers were aboard the Chicago-New York train as it sideswiped freight cars that had spilled in its path. Ten of 24 freight cars were demolished and a quarter of a mile of track was torn up.

A railroad spokesman said that pending further investigation it was surmised the freight derailment was caused by a plank from a crossing. The spokesman said the freight's water scoop, which enables a train to take on water while traveling, was in an improper position and it was believed the scoop picked up a plank and dropped it under the cars behind the engine.

Death Sentence

LONDON (CP)—Robert Blaine, 24, was sentenced to death Friday in Old Bailey—the central court of criminal justice—after a jury had convicted him of the murder of Capt. J. A. Ritchie of Ottawa and Montreal.

The jury deliberated 17 minutes. Blaine showed no emotion as the judge pronounced sentence.

Evidence was given at the trial that the 41-year-old Canadian army officer was found last Sept. 14 lying in a pool of blood on a London street with a brick beside him. He died in a hospital.

Two men were seen hurrying from the scene. Blaine was caught by police, but a search still is under way for the other man.

V-Bomb Scientists Arrive in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of German scientists brought to the United States in September has been identified as the development staff of the Nazis' V-weapons base at Peenemunde.

A recent dispatch from Stockholm quoted an unnamed British officer as saying the entire German staff at the rocket weapon base, about 90 men, had been transferred to the United States.

Asked about this, war department officials referred questions to a statement issued several weeks ago which said "certain outstanding German scientists and technicians" were being brought here to help the United States "take full advantage of these significant developments which are deemed vital to our national security."

(A secret party of 88 German scientists, reputedly in possession of some of the Nazis' top-secret scientific secrets, departed Friday night in New York from the transport Argentina under the eyes of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and government intelligence officers.)

No CBC Reports On Prison Riots

OTTAWA (CP)—The Federal Justice Department insisted that the "broadcasting corporation" refrain from including in its broadcasts any references to disturbances in Canadian penitentiaries, Justice Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Friday afternoon.

When references were made in broadcasts to disturbances in a penitentiary it created unrest in all penitentiaries.

The broadcasting corporation was very reluctant to eliminate the reports of these incidents in such institutions, and I confess that I was reluctant to have to insist that it be done, but the alternative would have been for us to eliminate radios from the penitentiaries," said Mr. St. Laurent.

"That kind of news created unrest with which we were not prepared to cope."

Police Recover Part Of Mussolini's Gold

VICENZA, Italy (AP)—The mystery of Mussolini's missing treasure was believed partially solved today when police announced they had arrested two men who were hunting a purchaser for 60 kilograms (132.28 pounds) of gold ingots.

Police said they were convinced the gold was part of Mussolini's private fortune. They recalled published reports that a large fortune, supposedly captured when the partisans trapped Mussolini near Dongo last spring, later disappeared.

Part of the 60 kilograms of ingots has been recovered and the remainder is being sought.

Fire Damages Plant In Montreal Suburb

MONTREAL (CP)—Fire of unknown origin Friday night destroyed the plant of Building Products Ltd. in suburban Ville la Salle. No casualties were reported, and total estimate of the damage was not available, although a warehouse, offices, boilerhouse and a $500,000 extension to the rear of the plant were left untouched.

Early morning reports that several employees were unaccounted for and may have been trapped in the building, were later proved to be without foundation.

600,000 Householders Hoping To Build Homes When Possible

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

TORONTO—Even allowing for the fact that the best laid plans of mice and men sometimes "gang a-gley," a prodigious number of Canadians are planning to build a new house when labor and materials are plentiful again.

If nobody's plans went astray, some 600,000 new houses would be started in this country when conditions were favorable, according to a nation-wide survey conducted by the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion or Gallup Poll.

Basis for this figure was the question, asked of an accurate sample of the population across the Dominion:

"Are you planning to build a new house when labor and materials are plentiful again?"

If the answer was "No," or if the person being interviewed was undecided, a further question was put:

"Do you plan to buy a house?" Here are the way the answers came, reflecting the situation among Canada's 2,700,000 households: Plan to build 22 per cent, plan to buy a house 5 per cent, not planning to build or buy 61 per cent, undecided 12 per cent.

Because the 22 per cent represents only those who think they plan to build when materials and labor are plentiful again, it represents a potential market for new houses rather than a forecast as to the number of new houses which will actually go up when labor and materials are available.

However, taking the number of households in Canada at 2,700,000, this potential market would be 600,000 new houses.

Estimates, not based on surveys, as to the number of homes needed in Canada in the next few years have been made by many organizations and groups, and vary widely. Here are just a few of these estimates:

Department of Reconstruction, 50,000 this year.
C.C.F., 1,250,000 in 10 years.
Canadian Corps Association, 400,000 before 1948.

MacArthur Policy Approved By Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Far Eastern Advisory Commission Friday informally approved the basic American political policies now being followed by Gen. MacArthur in the control of Japan.

Formal approval probably will be voted next Friday, commission officials indicated.

A committee under Foreign Minister Herbert V. Ewart of Australia reported to the 10-nation commission on the basic political policies thus far carried out in directives sent to General MacArthur and in orders given by him to the Japanese government.

The commission went over the report, and made only minor changes, according to information made available by a spokesman when the session ended.

The question of a trip to Tokyo by the F.E.A.C. was raised and probably will be voted upon next Friday. Russia is not represented on the commission at this time.

Airmen's 'Strike' Found To Be Justified

NEW DELHI (Reuter)—About 700 R.A.F. airmen who "struck" against conditions at their base at Jodhpur, India, have escaped disciplinary action after a personal investigation by Air Marshal Sir Roderick Carr, base force commander in southeast Asia.

Complaints about bad food and unnecessary full-dress inspections prompted the strike, which followed a broadcast of Britain's demobilization plans by George Isaacs, Minister of Labor. While the broadcast was later officially described as over-optimistic, the airmen felt they had been misled by their station commander, Group Capt. J. D. Ruthenford.

Work Still Ahead For Victoria Army Provost

Members of the Victoria detachment of the 41st Provost Company are shown outside their headquarters at Work Point Barracks. From left to right, they are: Front row, L-Cpl. M. F. Mikush, Margo, Sask.; L-Cpl. H. S. Harding, Victoria; Sgt. J. H. Gould, Summerland; Lt. N. J. L. Stephen, Victoria, in command; Cpl. G. D. Woods, Wetaskiwin, Alta.; L-Cpl. R. T. Koch, Vancouver; L-Cpl. F. A. Kennedy, Victoria. Second row, Pte. J. E. Love, Prince Rupert; Pte. J. Emanuele, Vancouver; Pte. B. Wren, Duncan; L-Cpl. F. Zetek, Kamloops; Pte. W. T. Buck, Hamilton, Ont.; L-Cpl. L. W. McKinnon, Terrace; Pte. J. Lockhart, Powell River; Pte. R. A. Wagenstein, Calgary; Pte. G. Harrison, Winnipeg; Pte. J. O. Dennahower, Niagara Falls. Third row, Pte. S. W. Creelman, Niawan, Sask.; Pte. L. Desaulniers, Winnipeg; Cpl. G. W. Rackel, Winnipeg; L-Cpl. W. W. Plummer, Fort William, Ont.; and Pte. A. C. Brown, Brantford.

Having performed the necessary but very often thankless duties of military police through the war years here, the Victoria detachment of the 41st Provost Company, Canadian Provost Corps, under the command of Lieut. N. J. L. Stephen, 2238 Shakespeare Street, still has ahead of it the task of guarding discipline here until demobilization is complete.

Formed originally as the 21st Provost Company and becoming the 41st in 1942, the company has two women on strength, L-Cpl. F. A. Kennedy, a Victoria girl, and L-Cpl. M. F. Mikush, Margo, Sask.

Throughout the war the company has maintained street patrols and posted patrols on coastal vessels reaching and leaving Victoria. Work has been done in co-operation with naval, R.C.A.F. and civil police.

First officer in charge of the Provost Corps in the city was Lt-Col. W. S. Dingley, a Victorian, now Pacific command asstant provost marshal. Commanding officer of the company now is Maj. F. T. MacDonald, Lake, E.D.

Lieut. Stephen, who assumed command of the Victoria detachment one and a half months ago following more than five and a half years' service overseas, is a member of the permanent force and left here with the P.P.C.L.I. at the outbreak of war. He transferred to the Provost Corps in 1943 in England and has seen service in Italy and Germany. His home is at 2238 Shakespeare Street.

Lieut. Stephen, boxing under the management and training of Detective Louis Callon, city police, fought here for a number of years before the war and was runner-up in the Pacific Coast Golden Gloves contest in 1938.

DISCIPLINE AND HELP

Maintenance of discipline among army personnel is the task of the provost, but it is also impressed on all members of the corps that it is their duty to come to the assistance of all soldiers.

Many things happened in the life of the provost man overseas. Some were funny and some were very definitely not funny.

Provost work overseas dealt a good deal with traffic control, and this involved some of the lighter moments in the life of an army provost remembered by Lieut. Stephen.

On one occasion in the south of Italy, drivers in the Canadian armored division, sweating, tired and bored, guided their vehicles up tortuous trails to the crest of a high hill to find a sign posted by the provost saying "Monotonous, ain't it?"

WASHING ON THE SIEGFRIED LINE

The memories and humor of the provost reached into western Europe. They remembered the old and boastful British song sung at the beginning of the war, "We're Going to Hang Our Washing on the Siegfried Line." As the victorious Allies fought their way forward against the Germans, they passed first a sign which said "Here is the Siegfried Line," and went on a little further to see a second one, "And here is the washing." With the sign went a line carrying a dirty pair of trousers, a shirt and socks.

There were other aspects, not so pleasant, in the life of the provost. One provost gained the Military Medal following discharge of duty under difficult conditions.

As German 88s screamed over

Storage Lockers For Family Use

The lands and zoning committee will recommend to the council that an amendment be made in the zoning by-laws to his head and crumpled by him, the provost held his post at the crossroads, target of the enemy, intent on disruption of Allied military traffic. It was bad, but he stayed.

Other duties of the provost included apprehension of war criminals, although they had to refuse many requests of the underground and civil authorities in freed countries in tracking down collaborators.

permit the establishment of cold storage lockers in commercial areas for family use only. Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the committee said after a meeting this week.

The resolution, having the support of the 20 associations represented at the meeting, urged that librarians be appointed in the larger city schools to stimulate interest in children for good books and also that a course in sex education for separate classes of boys and girls be included in the curriculum of junior and senior high schools.

GAMBLE OF MARRIAGE

A man asks, "Viewed realistically, what practical advantages has marriage to offer an average man who, in spite of his bachelor state, has a comfortable, contented, well-regulated and orderly life?"

It seems to me that the answer to that question depends what the individual man wants of life. Not all men desire the same things. Tastes differ in happiness just as much as they do in food, so there is no way to write the price tag on marriage and determine whether it is worth what it costs or not.

Admittedly marriage is the greatest gamble on earth and it is probably this appeal that it makes to our sporting spirit that keeps the wedding bells ringing. For no one can prophesy how a marriage is going to pan out. No man knows whether his bride is going to turn out to be his heart's desire, or a pain in the neck. He doesn't know whether she will be a spender, or a saver, or even a good cook, so it is no wonder that he stands shivering on the brink and wondering whether he should take a plunge into the matrimonial sea or not.

WHICH IS BETTER—DEPENDS—

In trying to assess whether there are more red points in marriage than there are in single blessedness, there are a number of things to be said. One is that it gratifies man's home-loving instinct, for, after all, man is a domestic animal and likes his own stall and his own oats. The average man wants his own place to come home to after a hard day's work, and a wife to provide him with food that he doesn't have to pick out from a menu.

Also a wife is the best safety valve yet devised for a husband's nerves and temper. Many a man would blow up and lose his job if he couldn't take out his grievances on the Little Woman instead of the boss. Also a wife is a perfect and unassailable alibi for all of her husband's faults and weaknesses. And of these household conveniences the bachelor is naturally deprived.

Of course, the great assets of marriage are the spiritual blessings it brings, if it is a happy one. The husband and wife who love each other, who grow closer together as the years go by, who never weary of each other's society have had their bit of heaven while still on earth. No happiness that the outside world gives can compare with it.

LONGER LIFE

Aside from this is the fact that the married man is more often successful in his undertakings than the bachelor is, and that he lives longer. A wife's care saves the life of many a man. Then the married man has an object in life. He has something to fight for, some goal to attain, and it keeps him young and interested.

Then there are the children. As we grow old we lose interest in ourselves. We have seen the world and it is a dull tale to us. We have shot our bow and know that we have no more arrows left in our quiver. But in our children we renew our youth. We see life through their eager eyes, and we believe, and hope, that they will do all the things that we never did.

When a young father tells you the cute thing the baby said, or brags about what Junior is doing in college, or shows you the picture of his pretty young daughter, he has a pure pride and joy that the bachelor never knows.

High School Prelims Hold Open House

Victoria High School was open Friday evening to parents and friends of the prelims and new students enrolled this year for an informal program.

Students introduced their parents to their teachers and showed them about the school. An assembly was held in the auditorium with the principal, H. L. Smith, in the chair. After stressing the fact that the curriculum in a cosmopolitan high school develops an all-round citizen, he introduced C. L. Campbell, vice-principal. Mr. Campbell's address dealt with the physical education program and the discipline in the school. Harry Dee spoke on group guidance and Miss Lois Maxwell on individual guidance. The replacement department and the students' council were discussed by R. Heywood, who introduced Dave Stock, president of the Students' Council Association. Dave introduced the student members of the council executive.

Winter In Europe Will Be Appalling Says Premier King On Return Home

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King said on his return here today from London and Washington that his conversations in Britain with persons from the continent had convinced him that "conditions this winter in Europe are going to be appalling."

Mr. King paused in a hotel corridor and gave reporters a resume of his impressions gathered on his four weeks in Britain and United States.

He said he was impressed with what must be done by Canada to see that supplies of food and clothing were dispatched overseas to relieve the grave situation and help to restore order out of the chaos on the troubled and stricken continent of Europe.

Mr. King said the Washington conference had not only been fruitful in connection with atomic energy but he hoped the conversations among Prime Minister Attlee, President Truman and himself would have permanently useful results in closer relations among the three countries.

In his overseas conversations he had heard much praise of Canada and Canadians and "I can say that I have never been more proud of being a Canadian than on this trip."

He praised the results of the 9th Victory Loan, said he was sorry Prime Minister Attlee could not stay longer than Monday and promised he would be making a full report on his trip "at an early sitting" of the House of Commons.

Telling reporters he was sorry he couldn't talk to them at length, he said he felt it his duty to save his full report for the Commons.

Public Shows Little Interest

Interest in Victoria's civic elections this year has hit what is believed to be an all-time low, after what promised to be a lively campaign two months ago, when there appeared to be a possibility of numerous controversial plebiscites or referendums.

With Ald. W. H. Davies and Ald. F. A. Willis retiring from the field of civic politics this year after a number of years as council members, there are only seven who have signified their intention to run, with the election less than a month away, and nomination day just over two weeks away.

NO PLEBISCITES

There will probably be several referendums or plebiscites submitted to the electorate during the course of the next year, but there are none to be put to the electors at the December elections.

By PETE SALLAWAY

CURRENT uproar in Coast Hockey League over the suspension of three Seattle players, Frank Dotten, Eddie Darnell and Bill Robinson by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association on the request of Lester Patrick of the New York Rangers is no surprise to the writer. Last summer in a chat with the vice-president of Madison Square Garden Corporation he told me that Dotten was the property of the Rangers but they had not exercised their rights, and for that reason he was able to play hockey out here on the coast. Now it looks as if the Rangers intend playing the game their way and have taken action to stop Dotten playing in these parts along with his two teammates. Fact that Dotten is charged with "pirating" Darnell and Robinson away from the New York team no doubt had much to do with Patrick's move.

IT WILL be interesting to see just how the Coast League teams and officials react to the suspension. In September I had a long talk with Paul Thompson, who, along with Coley Hall, is responsible for putting the Vancouver club into the circuit. "I hope the National Hockey League is willing to co-operate with us out on the coast and not adopt an attitude of dog eat dog," Thompson said. "Otherwise we may be forced to branch out on our own. Don't forget we have great hockey possibilities with huge cities like Los Angeles and San Francisco entered in the circuit and there is no telling that in some future date we may boast a coast hockey league that will rank with the N.H.L." One can be certain the astute team owners and directors of the N.H.L. will never give up any of their authority without a fight to the last ditch.

BIG TIME basketball returns to Victoria tonight with the Dominions tangle with their long-time rivals from Seattle, the Alpine Dairy quintette. Alpines played here last spring in the international tournament and once again showed they have lost none of their court wizardry. The club scheduled to show tonight packs even more class and the local favorites are going to have their work cut out to win. One can be sure of seeing two vastly different styles of play. Alpines are noted for their slow-breaking method while the Dominions are just the opposite featuring a fast-breaking offensive. It will be interesting to see which club is able to make the play suit its own particular style. Alpines with play slowed down to a walk are deadly. That was well proven in the final of the local tournament when they just missed beating the classy Fort Lewis Warriors.

HOW FAR major league baseball has gone or will go with Commissioner Happy Chandler's plan to spend $50,000 a year for kid baseball remains to be seen, but Ray Dumont who has spent more than $300,000 in the last five years on sandlot ball, should be able to give the big leaguers some interesting suggestions. In round numbers here's what Dumont put out last year on behalf of the National Baseball Congress: Printing and distribution of circulars featuring promotional material, $65,000; free distribution of baseball guides, $25,000; free rule books, $5,000; publicity and advertising, $10,000; payments to teams in U.S. tournament, $30,000. That's a fair outlay.

Vancouver Dog Sold for $2,200

VANCOUVER (CP) — Bracken's Sweep, a Labrador field trial dog, left today for the United States, headed for the home of his new owner, Daniel Pomeroy, wealthy New York sportsman. The dog was sold for $2,200 by Bert Blair, Vancouver breeder. Pomeroy expects to bid for the United States National Open Field Trials with the former Vancouver entry.

Last spring Bracken's Sweep walked away with the field trials at Seattle against many prominent U.S. entries.

Oregon Webfoots Defeat Varsity In Cage Struggle

VANCOUVER (CP) — University of Oregon Webfoots kept their British Columbia basketball record clean by defeating the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds 58 to 50 in an exhibition game here Friday.

The game was the first of a two-game pre-conference series between the universities, both of which have a little more at stake than merely winning an exhibition match—Oregon because their basketballers have never yet tasted defeat here, and U.B.C. because this season marks their first serious attempt to make a mark in the top flight ranks.

Last night's game was a repetition of former battles with the Webfoots taking an early lead and then fighting all the way to hold off the Thunderbird drive which stayed within striking distance until the last few minutes.

ROBERTSON SCORES 22

Oregon took a jump in the first 30 seconds of the match when team captain Bob Hamilton potted two baskets while the U.B.C. were getting their checks lined up, and although bird captain Sandy Robertson got one back shortly after, the count was run to 10 to 2 for the visitors, before the Vancouverites settled down.

Thereafter the contest became a personal battle between Hamilton and Robertson to see who was going to top the free scoring race which developed. The final tally gave Sandy the honors with 22 as against Bob's 20 for their evening's masterminding.

Thunderbirds were within a singleton of the Webfoots in the second quarter at 20 to 19, but the combination of Hamilton and Ken Hays put the Oregonians on top 31 to 23 as the half time whistle blew.

Dotten Refutes Patrick Claim

VANCOUVER (CP) — Frank Dotten, manager of the Seattle Ironmen of the Coast Hockey League, denied in an interview here Friday that Lester Patrick, manager of New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, had sent him transportation or asked him to attend any of the Rangers' workouts.

Wednesday the N.H.L. ordered the suspension of Dotten and two of his wingmen, Bill Robinson and Eddie Darnell. Thursday Patrick told a Vancouver sports writer that he had personally requested the suspension of the three players.

He said that Dotten, Darnell and Robinson were the property of the Rangers and that all three had accepted money from his organization.

"I have not talked to Patrick for at least three years," Dotten said. "He has not sent me transportation or asked me to attend any of the New York Rangers' workouts."

Seattle Wins Hockey Outfights Vancouver 3-1

VANCOUVER (CP) — The cellar-dwelling Seattle Ironmen, minus the services of their playing-manager, Frank Dotten, and winger Eddie Darnell, outfought Vancouver Canucks 3 to 1 in a Coast Hockey League game here last night.

Dotten and Darnell are under suspension by the National Hockey League.

The Ironmen played with just nine men in strip due to the ban on the two players, and defence-men Roger Jenkins and Frank Warshawski played full games with the exception of two minor penalties to the former.

Seattle opened the scoring after one minute of play in the first period when Ken Stanton took a double pass from Johnny Ursaki and Jenkins and slipped it into the corner of the net.

Alex Pringle evened matters up about halfway through the middle session when his attempted centre was deflected into the net off Jenkins' skate.

Ursaki scored what proved to be the winning goal when he took a relay from Shorty Coombs and whipped the puck into the net.

The Seattle squad went further ahead in the third canto when Stanton took a pass from Coombs 30 feet out and drove a bullet shot into the lower right-hand corner of the net.

The defence of Jenkins and Warshawski was good that Vancouver never had a chance to get set in front of Rollins, and when they did get a shot away they couldn't beat him. The backchecking of the Coombs-Ursaki line also kept Canucks at bay.

SUMMARY
First Period—1, Seattle, Stanton (Ursaki, Jenkins), 1:47. Penalty—Jenkins.
Second Period—2, Vancouver, Pringle, 8:52; 3, Seattle, Ursaki (Coombs), 14:38. Penalty—Jenkins.

N.H.L. Squads Face Important Fixtures

The National Hockey League was set today for a four-game week-end card, in which three teams — Detroit Red Wings, Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Rangers — were to play two games.

Single games were scheduled for Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks. Boston Bruins are idle until next Wednesday, when they entertain Canadiens.

The week-end schedule held the possibility of a new league leader. A double victory for Detroit, coupled with a loss for Montreal, would lift the Wings two points ahead of Canadiens. The Montreal club now holds a one-game lead over Detroit and Chicago, who are tied for second place and a half ahead of Boston.

Rangers in fifth place trail Boston by three points, but have half a game over the last-place Leafs, who have won only one game in nine starts this season.

Rangers received cheering news last night with word that Mac Colville, who teamed with brother Neil and Alex Shibicky on a famed Ranger line four seasons ago, may be ready for action in two weeks.

Tonight's program sends Detroit to Toronto and Canadiens to New York. The Sunday card is Toronto at New York, Detroit at Chicago.

Despite their record of one win, one tie and seven defeats, the Toronto club has drawn a paid attendance of 68,657 in their five home games to date.

But this box-office success is small solace to Coach Clarence (Happy) Day, club executives and the fans — all of them look for a winning team.

As one step in a campaign to get a winner, Day has recalled forward Jackie Hamilton and defenceman Ernie Dickens from the American Hockey League. They make their first N.H.L. appearance of the season tonight. Whom they will replace Day isn't saying.

DON METZ GOES DOWN
Co-incidence with the recall of Hamilton and Dickens from the Pittsburgh A.H.L. club, three players were sent to Pittsburgh this week. Two were rookie defencemen, Jim Thomson and Doug Baldwin of Winnipeg, the other a veteran forward out of the services early this year, Don Metz from Wilcox, Sask.

We're out to find a winning combination, said Day. We've got to keep on trying until we find where every player fits in best."

Today, the team's showing against Montreal Canadiens Wednesday night, when they suffered a 6 to 1 defeat, represents a "new low."

"I never saw a Toronto team, either in my years as player or as a coach, which looked so bad," said the man who played defence both with the Leafs and the old Toronto St. Pats, and coached the Leafs to the Stanley Cup in 1942, and again last spring.

The losing streak has been a shock to Toronto fans. The team won the Stanley Cup last season, and with most of the key figures in that triumph back, and former stars back from the services, there were strong hopes of a better club than a year ago. But, so far, it has failed to click.

Plays Tonight

ROSS WERNER

Recognized as one of the smartest guards in these parts, Werner will be in the line-up of Seattle Alpines when they battle Dominions at the High School gym tonight, starting at 8.30. Werner first played in this city as a member of the DeMolay club in 1935. He held a spot on the University of Washington Huskies for three seasons. A preliminary tonight between Canadian Legion and Northwestern Creamery senior B men's clubs will start at 7.30.

Veterans Wishing To Rejoin Brides Present Problem

MONTREAL (CP)—The problem of Canadians' war brides in the United Kingdom has a husbands' counterpart in Montreal, where discharged war veterans are applying in increasing numbers for passage overseas to rejoin the British girls they married there.

These men have a low priority on eastbound ships and are having nearly as much difficulty obtaining passage to England as their wives are in getting to Canada.

The British Ministry of War Transport Agency here is doing all it can to alleviate the situation, but of necessity this is not a great deal. An official of the ministry said Friday:

"All our sympathies are with these men, but our chief concern now is the speedy return of troops from overseas. To achieve this, a rapid turn around is necessary on this side of the Atlantic, and that is not possible where the movement of civilian passengers is involved. Added to this is the time consumed in England unloading both these passengers and their personal effects."

He added that during the summer it was normal to expect a wait of from two to 30 days, but because of the shipping shortage there was a huge backlog of passengers. However, more shipping space is expected after December.

Passage requirements include a passport, labor exit permit and the promise of job, and once in the United Kingdom the traveler finds it far more difficult to leave than it was to enter.

Lions Hear Foster

Air routes born in war years are now being used extensively in the development of mining activities in the northern area, Maj. Gen. W. W. Foster told the Lions Club in Empress Hotel Friday.

"A new era has dawned in the northwest," he said, adding that facilities made in wartime could be used for peacetime development.

To those who say the Alaska Highway was built "on the wrong route," Gen. Foster remarked that the highway was built as a military project, not a tourist attraction. He spoke of the oil pipeline extending more than 600 miles over mountain ranges from Camp Canol to Fairbanks. The sum of $500,000,000 was spent on various defence projects north of Edmonton and the expenditure was more than justified, Gen. Foster said.

Voters' List Unchanged

Reeve E. C. Warren and Councilors George Austin and John Oliver sat as a court of revision Thursday, waiting to add names of eligible persons to the Saanich voters' list, but there were no applicants. The list contains 10,890 names, 502 more than last year's voters' list.

Victoria Nature Talks

THE SEASON OF BUDS
By ROBERT CONNELL

NOW that the leaves have been stripped from tree and shrub by the wind, a new attraction to the nature-lover presents itself. This is the variety of buds. They differ in color. Some are a bright clear red and green like those of the osprey, some are purplish like those of the elder, and some are rosy pink like the tiny buds on some peach stems.

They vary still more in shape, round, narrow or sharp-pointed. Some of them are the starting-points of new stems, some will open out into leaf-clusters, some will produce flowers, and some will reveal both flowers and leaves. Usually the bud is wrapped in scales or embryo leaves and these are in the horse-chestnut and the cottonwood conspicuously coated with a gummy secretion. In the Rhamnus purshiana or Pursh's buckorn, commonly known as Cascara sagrada, that is, sacred bark, or more familiarly still as cascara, the terminal buds show a cluster of little rusty brown leaflets, each tightly folded down the middle, the largest one distinctly veined.

COLOR AND FORM

The smooth green and bronzy red paired maple buds already enveloping the bare grey branches are markedly different from the oak buds which often closely neighbor them. The oak displays in the youthful state of its stems and foliage a plain grey color with such abundance of hairs as to produce the appearance of coarse felt, and at this season and until spring, definitely comes in, the buds look almost without life.

The alder has longish dull red and green buds. When the red outer scales are removed the juvenile green leaves are clearly seen, within their veining and with a gummy secretion. The alder's green catkins are also conspicuous in the winter, especially the larger infertile ones. Those that bear the brown fruiting cones are in quite small reddish-green clusters near the base of the infertile staminate catkins.

LEAF AND BUD

The young bud springs from the axil of a leaf, that is to say, from the angle between the base of the leaf stem and the main stem. In the summer the buds begin to grow there and when the autumn or winter gales come and the leaves fly off the bud is left surrounded in part by a small scar that marks the situation of the leaf-stem's base and bears little dots where the conducting veins passed from the main stem up into the leaf-stem and so into the leaf-tissues. This scar is sometimes like a horseshoe or a crescent but varies with the tree or shrub.

In the native so-called syringa or mock-orange the minute scar is triangular but with slightly rounded sides. In each angle is the small vein-dot and in the centre a little cone rises. The effect is that of a comic mask. The broad-leaved maple has a scar resembling a horseshoe narrower at the toe than at the heel, and in it seven scars or rather projecting points made by the hardened ends of the broken veins.

The alder has another mask-like scar, broadly triangular with rounded corners and with two dots and a line so placed as to look like the face of a brownie with only a mouth or a nose as you please. The aspen poplar has almost black, shining, narrow, sharp-pointed buds, below which are the tiny crescent-shaped scars, each with three spots. The ocean-spray spruce has a very small scar, a little more angular than that of the aspen poplar and also with three dots.

The plane or sycamore of our boulevards is peculiar in having the bud completely concealed in the base of the leaf, so that it is not till the leaf falls that it is visible. The fallen leaf displays the triangular cavity.

Worshipping In the Church

Scripture: Nehemiah 8:1-12; Psalm 137; Ephesians 5:15-21

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

I knew a man, an artist, who told me once how "much better it was, instead of going to church, to worship in the fields and woods. There, he said, out in the open, in the glory of the sunshine and the beauty of air and sea and sky, one felt like reaching out and embracing all mankind.

I think I remarked that mankind wasn't there to be embraced. Worshiping in church has a social significance, value, and effect that no worship in private can have, no matter how sincere it may be. There is a place for the religion of the woods and fields. Jesus laid great stress upon it. He led His disciples through the fields, He taught them beside the sea, and the greatest of all sermons He preached as they sat around Him on the mountain. But the Sabbath found Him in the synagogue. In the example that Jesus set for us, church-going was an essential part.

"All mankind" is not in the church any more than in the woods or fields, but mankind, our fellowmen, are there, the symbol of the whole human family, and brotherly love and mutual aid and affection have more concrete meaning when we are worshipping among our own, with common needs, common hopes, and common aspirations.

What does it mean to worship? I think that in the mind and teaching of Jesus, worship was always associated with truth, and with conduct. He defined its nature very definitely in His talk at Jacob's Well with the woman of Samaria. "God is a spirit," He said, "and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." That is the real and ultimate test of worship. And much of our worship today, I fear, will not stand the test; for when worship becomes formal it ceases to be in spirit and in truth. Worship, too, is not an end in itself; its purpose is to bring us nearer to God and nearer to one another.

Some time ago I attended a service in which the preacher gave a thoughtful and original sermon, one of the best that I have ever heard. I have forgotten the exact wording of the theme, but it was an able exposition of the social conception of God. But what impressed me, apart from the deep impression of the sermon itself, was that almost everything in the ecclesiastical setting was in almost direct contrast with the minister's fine words. The appointments, the symbols, almost all suggested a God who was an oriental potentate, rather than Our Heavenly Father. It is well that we should feel awe and reverence in the presence of the Eternal; but the great word for the worshiper is: Draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to you. The true aim is to bring us near to God, not to make us feel His remoteness.

We are accustomed to call our periods of worship in church "services." It is attending church actually Christian service, or is the measure of our service what we put into effect in our daily life? The soldier is serving even when he is not in action, and our church services might be compared to the soldier's periods of preparation, or assembly for marching orders. But unless our worship gets into our daily thoughts and deeds it is not worship in spirit and in truth, and is not Christian worship at all.

Result of the final count gave Mr. Welch 3,420 votes and Mr. Cameron 3,358. Tom McEwen, Labor Progressive Party nominee, polled 827 votes.

Mr. Welch won the seat despite a slight edge taken by Mr. Cameron in the service vote, announced today.

Edward Fraser Rowland, C.C.F., has been elected in Omica constituency with a majority over Mark Connelly, Coalition member of the last Legislature, of 56 votes. Of the 42 registered and unregistered service votes, Mr. Connelly won 20 and Mr. Rowland 22.

In North Okanagan Agriculture Minister K. C. MacDonald, unable to campaign because of ill-health, polled more of the service vote than his two opponents. He received 26 registered and 81 unregistered service votes, while L. W. Wood, C.C.F., polled 17 registered and 44 unregistered service votes. O. Speltr, Social Credit, won 10 service votes.

The election of Mr. Welch leaves the Atlin constituency as the only doubtful seat.

Male Job Vacancies Continue to Drop

No improvement in the general employment situation for men was noted today by C. A. Mudge, manager of the local National Employment Service office, when he stated that job vacancies dropped from 315 a week ago to 233 today.

A month ago there were 499 vacancies for men. There was an increase in the number of job vacancies for women owing to the demand of retail stores for extra Christmas help. Vacancies for women stand at 177, compared with 113 a week ago and 176 a month ago.

Supply of Turkeys Is Unpredictable

A slight increase in the number of baby chicks in the western provinces this year over last, was noted in the Dominion census, but Victoria wholesalers state that they will not have an accurate picture of Christmas turkey supplies until the first week in December.

"The picture can change due to bad weather and turkeys are hard to raise the first six months," one wholesaler said. "Last year we just met the local demand for a shortage in the east took some of the birds that would normally have been sent to British Columbia."

War-time Prices and Trade Board has just issued ceiling prices for dressed turkeys, with the wholesale and retail prices differing slightly in various zones in Canada. Following are the ceilings per pound in British Columbia, from Dec. 15 to 31: Wholesale, box-packed Special Grade, 38¢ and retail box-packed 46¢; Grade A, 37¢ and 44¢; Grade B, 35¢ and 42¢ and Grade C, 32¢ and 39¢.

Prices board officers have advised producers to market their turkeys early in December to assure the public of an adequate distribution of turkey supplies. This season's "buoyant market" will afford the producer a good opportunity for early sales, according to the W.P.T.B.

Classy Field in $25,000 Pimlico Special Today

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two fillies and five glamour boys of racing tangle in the ninth running of the Pimlico Special today, trying to prove that Alf Vanderbilt was right when he said he could put up $25,000—winner take-all—in November and come up with the horse of the year.

Since Alf put that jackpot on the wire, he has had many right answers—War Admiral, Seabiscuit, Chaldean, Whirlaway and Twilight Tear.

When the seven contestants go to the post trainer Ben Jones will be favored to take the pot of gold with Warren Wright's Colomet Farm entry of Pot O' Luck and the four-year-old Armed, Winner of the Arlington classic, the Lawrence Realization and the Jockey Club Gold Cup this year, Pot O' Luck is speaking a loud piece for the three-year-old honors, although he was mighty quiet during the Derby. Preakness-Belmont scrambling.

The chief challenge to Ben's training magic comes from two goppers from the other side of the tracks. Styble was claimed off the bargain counter for $1,500 by Hirsch Jacobs and has won $232,425. First Fiddle was a $2,500 buy for Ed Mulrenan of New York and has $358,850 in the bank account at the moment.

Both will be packing 126 pounds top load in the weight-for-age special, along with Armed.

Then there's Polynesian, Mrs. P. A. B. Widener's three-year-old Preakness winner last spring. And not to forget the ladies, there are Gallorette, W. L. Brann's Pimlico Oaks winner, and War Date, the dry-weather hope of Elizabeth Arden Graham.

No Choice Open To Portugal Voters

LISBON (AP)—Portugal's voters will go to the polls tomorrow with no alternative but to endorse the strong-arm regime of their peasant-born Premier, Dr. Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

In an election proclaimed as free and obviously a bid for the return of Portugal to the good graces of the United Nations, not a single candidate opposes the 19-year-old dictatorship.

The opposition has come chiefly from the thus-far politically impotent intellectual class, in the form of a campaign to persuade the voters to stay away from the polls in silent protest against the administration.

The extent of the success of this campaign cannot be measured until the votes are counted. Of Portugal's 7,000,000 population, the registers carry the names of 943,274 voters.

Says School Curricula Should Be Modernized

Teachers have a specific responsibility to promote democracy and international goodwill, Dr. J. M. Thomas, principal of Mount View High School, said Friday night at Nanaimo at the Central and North Vancouver Island Teachers' convention.

Speaking on the responsibility of education in the world today, Dr. Thomas said that promotion of democracy at home and international goodwill might be achieved by modernizing the school curricula. The curricula at present served neither of these objectives, he declared.

Gorillas Battle In 'White Pongo'

Set in the wild section of the headwaters of the Belgian Congo, "White Pongo" tells the story of an expedition in search of a white gorilla, believed to be the missing link between man and beast.

When a renegade guide double-crosses them, leaving them without food or weapons, the safari is left to face the triple danger of beasts, natives and the relentless jungle itself.

Richard Fraser and Maris Wrixon have the leads in the picture, with a supporting cast that includes Lionel Royce, Gordon Richards, Michael Dyne, George Lloyd, Al Eben, Jack Collins, Jack Perrin, Milton Kibbee, Egon Brecher, Jack Williams, Louise Franklin, Martin Turner, Prince Modupe and Joel Fluellen.

Plaza, Oak Bay Show 'Southerner'

In the light of the current housing shortage, consider the problem in diplomacy which faced J. Carroll Nash, during the filming of Jean Renoir's production, "The Southerner," playing Monday at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, through United Artists, starring Betty Field and Zachary Scott.

Nash's landlady is none other than Estelle Taylor, who also emotes in "The Southerner." Every time Estelle had to face the camera, Nash was hovering about, looking a bit worried. He kept giving director Jean Renoir slight hints.

"What a fine job she's doing," he'd say, "don't you think she should have a close-up right here?" Or, "Is Miss Taylor perfectly happy in her role? If I play a scene with her, it's all right with me if my back is to the camera."

'The Corn Is Green' At Atlas Monday

"... And when I walk in the night—I can touch with my hands—where the corn is green."

Not a quote from a great man's speech—just a few simple words from the pen of an illiterate Welsh coal miner... but in them an intrepid woman finds the courage to carry her banner of education and learning to a backward and needy people. In them, a young man finds the inspiration and confidence to look for a better world. In them is expressed all the fervent hope of those who have sought learning down through the ages.

Briefly, that is what Warner Bros. "The Corn Is Green" is about. Starring Bette Davis and featuring John Dall, Nigel Bruce, Joan Loring and Rhys Williams, the film, which opens Monday at the Atlas Theatre, is a warm and tender tribute to all men and women of good will and to everything they have ever believed in and loved.

Repeating his double-barreled performance twice in the same season, George Seaton is billed as writer of the screen play as well as director of "Junior Miss," 20th Century-Fox's joyous filmization of the sensational Broadway stage comedy success starring Peggy Ann Garner now at the Dominion Theatre.

Earlier this season Seaton's versatility was displayed in "Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe" which he also directed as well as wrote. "Junior Miss" is based on the hit stage play by Jerome Chodorov and Joseph Fields.

Scholarship Winner

Douglas Kent, first horn with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, who left the city recently to take up a scholarship with the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, Pa. He served in the navy and was a member of the R.C.N. band.

Sunday Midnight Show At Rio

There is plenty of pulchritude in the new Abbott and Costello comedy, Universal's "Here Come the Co-Eds," which arrives Sunday midnight at the Rio Theatre.

In addition to the 35 musicians of Phil Spitalny's All Girl orchestra, the picture features a trio of lovelies in the persons of Peggy Ryan, Martha O'Driscoll and June Vincent. The three girls are seen as co-eds in an exclusive college where Bud Abbott and Lou Costello are assistant caretakers. Lon Chaney is the head caretaker, and one of the villains of the piece. The part represents a change of pace for Chaney, incidentally, as this time he is comically villainous instead of seriously so.

Donald Cook attends to the romantic phase of the film, opposite Martha O'Driscoll—but, as in all Abbott and Costello pictures, the accent is on comedy.

YORK THEATRE

London scenes, filmed in technicolor, form the background for Noel Coward's inspiring and entertaining story of a good, down-to-earth English family, "This Happy Breed," which is now at the York Theatre. It is said to be Noel Coward's greatest production since his famous "Cavalcade."

Laughs, heartbreaks, joys and excitement of the average English people, are shown graphically in this production, and portrayed by England's greatest actors, such as Robert Newton, Kay Walsh, Stanley Holloway, the English music hall's best-loved comedian.

All of England's well-known and loved institutions are shown amid spectacular grandeur, such as the Brighton Fair, Prince Consort Albert's Palace of Mirrors, and the streets and sights of dear old London.

CADET THEATRE

Jane Wyman rode the Hollywood merry-go-round three times before catching the brass ring. And now that ring is golden.

With her 13th picture, the ring has changed from brass to gold, for she has been given star rating for the first time.

The triple-threat girl, who is currently co-starring with Jack Carson and Irene Manning in Warner Bros. "Make Your Own Bed," at the Cadet Theatre, accepted her elevation to stardom with a tremendous thrill.

Ladysmith Wharf

LADYSMITH—Offer of Sam Guthrie, M.L.A., for the district to help enlist provincial government support for a proposed fishermen's wharf at Ladysmith was accepted by the city council here.

The proposed site had been visited by E. P. Murphy, deputy minister of public works, Ottawa, and K. Morton, federal district engineer, with representatives from the Boat Owners' Association and city council. Sum of $9,642 has been placed in the public works estimates for the project, the council learned.

Gershwin Show At Capitol Monday

Personal possessions, including a thirteen-volume scrapbook of the late George Gershwin, played their own dramatic roles in bringing Warner's "Rhapsody in Blue," the life story of the composer, to the motion picture screen which will be seen starting Monday at the Capitol Theatre.

The articles were lent to Jesse L. Lasky, producer of the Warner Bros. film by Ira Gershwin, brother of George and author of the lyrics for many of his melody hits. In addition to the scrapbook, which proved invaluable as a research document, the collection includes the silent piano keyboard that the composer always carried with him on his travels and his combination desk and work table.

Robert Alda, youthful newcomer who makes his starring debut in the Gershwin role, is seen in several shots working at the table-desk upon which Gershwin wrote his enduring music.

Murder Trial Opens At Assizes Monday

Charles (Chuck) Kinney, 285-pound Victoria boy who was to have entered college this fall to study for the ministry, will go on trial before Mr. Justice J. M. Coady in Assize Court here Monday at 10.30 for the alleged murder of Phyllis Stroud at her home at 2658 Roseberry Avenue on V.J. night.

Kinney was brought to Victoria Friday for the trial from Oakalla Prison Farm near New Westminster where he was held since after his preliminary hearing of the murder charge in City Police Court in the middle of September.

Kinney will be represented by H. W. Davey K.C., and Crown prosecutor will be R. D. Harvey K.C.

Wins D.S.O.

Maj. Robert R. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, 2732 Thompson Avenue, who has been awarded the Distinguished Service Order.

SOUVENIR HUNTING

A NUMBER of my readers have written to me in the last ten days expressing their views on a recent incident which occurred in Vancouver.

The general tenor expressed disgust at the ugly note which marred the grand chorus of welcome tendered to repatriates from the Far East.

They were, of course, referring to the shocking display given by some of the throngs which visited the British aircraft carrier, H.M.S. Glory.

When souvenir hunters went on the warpath to such an extent as to mortify the city authorities and citizens generally.

DID THOROUGH JOB

UNHAPPILY, such displays are not confined to Vancouver. Still more unhappy, they seem to reflect a growing tendency.

For I read that when the U.S.S. Missouri was opened to the public in New York recently a similar demonstration confronted the authorities there.

During the few days that mighty battleship was in port, 635,000 people went aboard. And some so abused the hospitality of the ship's officers that when the hosts reckoned up its cost at the end of the visit, they had reason to be rueful.

According to the Missouri's executive officer, everything movable had either disappeared or been tampered with.

YOUNGSTERS BLAMED
THE HARRED officer attributed much of the damage to the 60,000 children who visited the great dreadnought.

Despite double guards placed around vital equipment, some of the youngsters managed to elude them.

Nameplates and identifying tags on doors, hatches and equipment were removed, and some of the heavy fire hose nozzles disappeared.

The predatory visitors even tried to pry loose from the quarterdeck the metal plaque commemorating the surrender ceremony of Tokyo.

PULLED EVERY LEVER
THE DAMAGE CONTROL officer also had a sad story to tell of damage caused by these souvenir hunters in action.

Everything that looked like a lever was pulled, including the general alarm bell which sent the crew scurrying to their battle stations.

After that experience, the alarm system was de-energized during the visiting hours. Youngsters with a yen to add their names to everything in sight left their signatures all over the ship.

Some even "wrote their compositions" with penknives in the paint of the turrets," according to this officer.

TEACHERS FAINTED

ONE AMBITIOUS lad released the lever which sent a two-ton liferaft hurtling to the crowded deck.

By a miracle no one was seriously hurt, but the youngster came away with a souvenir which will remind him of his escapade for the rest of his life—and perhaps teach him a lesson.

For he lost a finger as a result of his action. And in the general hubbub which ensued, 150 of the teachers in charge of the children fainted.

I don't know whether it was from shock at the incident or from apprehension as to what their charges were going to do next!

STRANGE MENTALITY

THESE INCIDENTS are a sad commentary upon the modern mentality.

Perhaps it is hardly fair to describe it as modern, for I remember how, in my younger days when visiting on the Continent, souvenir hunting was also popular.

But in those days it was confined chiefly to taking hotel silverware, or to chipping bits off ancient churches or historic castles.

As with everything else, the souvenir craze has been accelerated and lifted to "bigger and better" proportions today.

And the oddest thing about it is that people who would be horrified at the thought of stealing from a store, seem to think nothing of stealing a souvenir.

NO FINE DISTINCTION

FOR THAT'S WHAT it amounts to. I fail to see the fine distinction between the two.

And when, as in the battleship incidents, it is accompanied by sheer vandalism and a threat to public safety, it is even more reprehensible.

It is to be seen, too, in the growing number of car thefts—often by mere youngsters. If and when they are caught, the offence is all too often excused on the ground that they were only taking a joy ride—but tragic things have happened in the course of such so-called joy rides.

So it seems to me that the time has come for a little more emphasis to be placed upon the need for respect of other people's property and the other fellow's rights.

And the place to lay that emphasis is in our educational processes—both in the home, the school and the church—rather than waiting to emphasize it in our courts of law.

New YorkStocks Reach For 14-Year Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—Selected stocks continued to reach for 14-year highs in today's market although numerous leaders were unable to surmount week-end profit cashing on the lengthy swing.

While slowdowns appeared after a lively start, transfers of around 1,000,000 shares were among the largest for a short stretch since 1941. Trends were mixed near the close with fractional variations the rule.

Slight advances were registered for Canadian Pacific and Hiram Walker, up 1/4. Lake Shore gained 1/2. Retreating were Distillers Seagrams and McIntyre, off one point each, while Dome Mines slipped 1/4.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:
30 Industrials—192.27, up 14
20 rails—63.97, off .09
15 utilities—38.36, off .03
65 stocks—72.33, unchanged
Total sales 1,000,000 shares.
